Farmer's Hill Cemetery

Andover, Oxford, Maine

1849 - 1950

OxAnd01

Location: This small cemetery is located in East Andover on the backside of Farmer's Hill. From Andover Village, take Route 120 east toward the village of East Andover. Keep right at about 1/2 mile where a road to the left goes to South Arm and at about .8 mile where Route 120 goes left to Roxbury Pond. Stay on this road for about 2.6 miles from the center of town. At the East Andover Fire Station, turn left on the Farmer's Hill Road. You will be heading approximately southeast. Continue on this road for about 2.3 miles until you get to the top of Farmer's Hill where an older shingled house is ahead on the right. Turn right, and you will be heading approximately southwest to start, but the road soon turns back toward the southeast. Continue on this road down the backside of the hill for about .8 of a mile and the Farmer's Hill Cemetery will be on the left. This is a dirt road that is usually passable except during snow and mud seasons, but exercise caution.

Woodlawn Cemetery

Andover, Oxford, Maine

From the center of town, take Main Street/Route 5 south for about one mile and Woodlawn Cemetery will be on the left. Woodlawn Cemetery has been in continuous use from 1801 until the present. Woodlawn Cemetery is spread over several acres, and has three main areas, which were put into use at different times. The streets within the cemetery are logically arranged with the letter streets going east from and perpendicular to Main Street/Route 5 and the numbered avenues going in a north/south direction parallel to Main Street/Route 5.

A Street starts near the vault and goes at a slight angle to the right. B Street is next, and C Street is the main entrance. D Street, which does not have outside access, is the southern boundary of the cemetery. The numbered avenues start with 1st Avenue closest to Main Street/Route 5, and 5th Avenue close to the back boundary. These streets and avenues are usually poorly marked, if at all.

Original Cemetery

The old part cemetery has burials from 1801 and an occasional one in the 1990s. The old part of the cemetery is adjacent to Main Street/Route 5 from the vault south about to halfway between B and C Streets, and from C Street south to D Street, which is the southern boundary, and goes back to the first cross street, which is 1st Avenue. Most of the early settlers are buried here, including Susan Adams, whose tombstone reads, "She was the first person to be buried in this Yard;" Ezekiel Merrill, first settler of Andover; Mollocket, local Indian woman who helped the early settlers; and other early settlers and Revolutionary War veterans.

Main Cemetery

The main cemetery has burials generally from the late 1800s to the present. The main cemetery covers the area from A Street on the north (adjacent to the vault), to D Street (the southern boundary) and from 1st Avenue to the eastern boundary, with a small section fronting on Main Street/Route 5 between C and D Streets, back to 1st Avenue.

Cemetery Annex

The lots in the Cemetery Annex are laid out in five rows, which start at Main Street/Route 5 and extend to the eastern boundary of the cemetery. "A" Street separates the Annex from the older part of the cemetery.

Original Woodlawn Cemetery

Andover, Oxford, Maine

The old part of Woodlawn Cemetery is adjacent to S. Main St./Route 5, and generally runs from the vault back to the first cross street, which is 1st Avenue, and south to the property line. The lots are small, close together, and many have the tall, thin, white marble stones. There are three sections within the original part, with Section 1 closest to the tomb, Section 2 next, and Section 3 the most southerly.

Section 1, in back of the Tomb

(Approximately 35 souls, including infants, unnamed and incomplete stones)

Chandler Hill Cemetery

Bethel, Oxford, Maine

1823 - 1884

OxBth05

Copied in September 1972

by Swan and Picard

Located on Chandler Hill, a road running north and lies west of Waltern Mt. Cemetery rescued from the forest; trees down & brush cleared. Stones moss covered and leaning against a tree. The area is rather large for the number of stones visible. Dug and found one submerged stone. Assume others may be underground.

Quint Cemetery

AKA Rogers Cemetery

1825 - 1899

OxBrf07

Location: Near Nat Rogers (Blake blueberry farm). Take Dugway Rd (Buxton Rd) from Goodwin's Hill. Go past a white house on the right. At 0.1 miles bear right to an old homesite. Walk toward left, then bear right along an overgrown path. Cemetery in poor condition.

There is a stonewall with granite steps surrounding an area 80' east to west and 100' north to south. Area is on a slight hillside.

Wentworth - Brown Cemetery

1845 - 1896

OxBrf13

Location: On a point of land opposite the intersection of the Center Conway Road and road to Eaton, NH. Easy to reach but not visible from the road; it is 0.1 mile off the road. Albert Brook's farm is across the road. This 50' X 50' cemetery has a wire fence supported by granite posts. The town has a trust fund to maintain the property.

Ten Mile Cemetery

1799 - 1823

OxBrf17

Location: Near Hiram-Brownfield town line (Route 113) on the old Lane Homestead property. This cemetery has now disappeared. The following was written in 1900: "There is a cemetery near Ten Mile Mill, but no traces of it now. The graves there now are covered with trees grown since anyone was laid there, some 15 people in all." (From Dr. William Teg's HISTORY OF BROWNFIELD, MAINE, Carbrook Press, Cornish, Maine, 1966) In 1877 William Henry Lane listed some of the occupants of the graves. The names listed here were copied from a notebook of Miss Ruth Peckham, Brownfield, Maine: "Ten Mile. Place of burial of the early settlers there. There is no record of any head stones set at the graves. The lot completely grown over with pine trees and bushes. There is one flag grave in memory of the wife of Samuel Howard, who is said to have been one of the party who threw the tea overboard in Boston Harbor in 1773. William Henry Lane has told the writer that when the little child of Jonathan Johnson was buried there, that was the 14th grave in the place."

Isaac Johnson Cemetery

1854 - 1881

OxBrf20

Location: On high ground on north side of "Cook's Flat" between the old Broad Farm and a bend in the road. It is near the present house of Lawrence Fox, formerly the Lawrence Blake place. Overgrown and barely visible cemetery; due to disrepair, one would have to be shown the location. Measurement of area not possible due to thick bushes. There is only 1 stone standing.
