Smith Cemetery

Fryeburg, Oxford, Maine

OxFry26

Location: Adjacent to property owned by Mr & Mrs. Frank Buzzell. At one time this property and homestead was owned by Otis & Huldah SMITH, great grandparents of Postmaster Charles Lewis who now (at time of recording) owns the land on which the cemetery is located. The burial ground is approx 250 yds east of Route 113 and is not visible from the road. It is difficult to reach...very overgrown. There were 2 stones found. Florence Robbins (Mrs. Cleveland Otis Robbins) of West Fryeburg said that her husband's maternal grandparents are buried there, namely Otis SMITH & Huldah SMITH. Her husband's mother, Abigail SMITH ROBBINS, was originally buried there but was moved, some years ago, to the PINE GROVE CEMETERY on Route 302 in Fryeburg.

Directions. From the intersection of Routes 140 and 219, travel north on Route 140 approximately 3.7 miles to the intersection on the left with Stetson Road. Turn left onto Stetson Road, and follow it 2.5–2.6 miles to the intersection on the right with Labrador Pond Road (just before a "narrow bridge"). Turn right onto Labrador Pond Road, and the cemetery is on the left in .9–1.0 miles. (After you turn onto Labrador Pond Road, go straight even when Labrador Pond Road turns left.)

Directions. From the intersection of Routes 140 and 219, travel east on Route 219 for approximately 2.5 miles to the intersection on the left with Pratt Hill Road (no road sign found in 2011). Turn left onto Pratt Hill Road, and the cemetery is on the right in 0.6–0.7 miles - It is on the bank of a brook which I was told is Waterhouse or Bear Brook

Fuller Cemetery

Hartford, Oxford, Maine

GPS 44° 21.73 N    070° 17.37 W

Location: From the intersection of Routes 140 and 219, travel east on Route 219 for approximately 2.5 miles to the intersection on the left with Pratt Hill Road (no road sign found in 2011). Turn left onto Pratt Hill Road, and the cemetery is on the right in 0.9–1.0 miles, approximately 0.1 miles after Pratt Hill Road crosses Mahoney Road. Order: starting at far right each row to far left and back to far right for next row. There are several depressions that are most likely unmarked graves. The cemetery has been repaired and is in very good order.

John Cotton's Field Cemetery

Hiram, Oxford, Maine

1862 - 1920

OxHir01

Location: On Hiram Hill Road. All graves are unmarked except by field stones. Names of those buried here were provided by Lester, Leon and Irving Sargent, Hiram Hill residents, who place flags where necessary at Memorial time. There are possibly others unknown buried here. Joseph and Sally Lewis Storer were parents of Gardner B, Clarissa M. and Joseph Storer Jr. There is no record available of Maria I. Cotton's death. She was married to John Cotton Jr., at Hiram on May 22, 1860. Clarissa M. Storer Dunham married to John Cotton Jr. at Hiram on February 14, 1879.

Location: On Hiram Hill Road. James Eastman was a soldier of the French and Indian Wars and of the Revolution. He and his wife went from "house to house among the farmers, when advanced in life, to dress the flax." He came from Danvers, Mass., and settled on Hiram Hill, where he built upon a slight rise of ground in a narrow field near the Richardson farm. His isolated grave, once marked with fieldstones, is located on a little hillock in the forest. His widow and children deserted the lonely spot after his death. A government marker has been placed upon his grave in recent years. James Eastman married Sally Whitehorn, and they were the parents of Elizabeth, Lucy Ann, John W., Henry, Amie, Ruth H. and Sarah Eastman.

Ridlon Cemetery

Hiram, Oxford, Maine

1828 - 1893

OxHir07

Location: On former Charles Ridlon farm, now the property of Herbert McClare, Sr., located on Hiram Hill Rd, off Rt 113 in Hiram, ME. Sources for some of the family material include: Llewellyn A. Wadsworth's Journal, 1870, Hiram, Unpublished; Gideon T. Ridlon's Saco Valley Settlements and Families, Tuttle Co., Rutland, VT., 1967 reprint of the 1895 edition. (Note: G.T. Ridlon, during his research work in Hiram, stayed at the home of Joshua R. Ridlon, his relative, on Hiram Hill) Joshua R. and Eunice Gould Ridlon were parents of Charles G., Sarah F., Octavius, Elizabeth, Jefferson and Millard P. Ridlon.

Watson Cemetery

Hiram, Oxford, Maine

1825 - 1915

OxHir14

On outer King Street in Hiram, opposite the Watson Place, built 1785, the oldest house in the town of Hiram , ME. NOTE: Buried in this cemetery is JOHN WATSON, the early Hiram pioneer, a private in the Massachusetts unit during the Revolutionary War; his wife LUCY BICKFORD WATSON and their son Deacon JOHN WATSON, Jr., the first white male child born in the town of Hiram. The cemetery was restored in 1976 with a small stipend from the town and through the efforts of local descents of the Watsons.

Clemons Pond Road Cemetery

Hiram, Oxford, Maine

1892 - 1934

OxHir17

Location: On Notch Rd in Hiram. Turn left on Rt 114 between Hiram & Brownfield. The cemetery is located on the right side of the road (almost at the end of Notch Rd and near Big Clemons Pond.) The road is paved and cemetery is easily accessible. It may also be reached by turning right on Rt 160 between South Hiram and Brownfield. It is closer to Rt 160 than to Rt 113.

Cotton Burying Ground

Hiram, Oxford, Maine

1845 - 1912

OxHir19

Location: Off Notch Rd in Hiram, about 1 mile northeast of Clemons Pond, on the so-called Bray Brook Rd, which was discontinued as a town road in 1946. The Notch Rd is located off Rt 113 between Hiram & Brownfield. Practically inaccessible, overrun by forest. Cemetery is on the farm land settled by William Cotton, Sr. in 1790.

This cemetery is on land cleared by Jonathan Clemons and sold by his heirs to Joshua Sargent.

Sargent Burying Ground

Hiram, Oxford, Maine

1849 - 1897

OxHir23

Location: Off Notch Rd in Hiram, about 1 mile northeast of Clemons Pond, on the so-called Bray Brook Rd, which was discontinued as a town road in 1946. The Notch Rd is located off Rt 113 between Hiram & Brownfield. Practically inaccessible, overrun by forest. Notes: Joshua Sargent purchased the Jonathan Clemons farm from Jonathan's heirs. The burial ground is located on the property, across the brook from the granite foundation of the house. Joshua and Sarah Storer Sargent were the parents of Thomas S., Charles H., Wilburn A., Freeman, Edgar O., Joseph, Frank, William, Irena H. and John W. Clemons

Tripp Cemetery

Hiram, Oxford, Maine

1885 - 1887

OxHir25

Location: This cemetery is located near Tripptown Brook off the Tripptown Road in South Hiram. There is a neat iron fence around the graves of Richard and Betsey Tripp. There are numerous sunken graves, some marked with fieldstones, located on both sides of and behind the enclosed graves. Note: Dr. William Teg, in his History of Hiram, writes of this burial ground: "Tripptown got its name from the fact that the family "Tripp" settled here more than 150 years ago. There stands a monument of gray granite, marking the last resting place of Richard Tripp and his wife, Betsey. For many years a loving hand placed a floral tribute here on Decoration Day. To thus express one's veneration for the departed is a noble gesture. Many an abandoned burying-ground is found amongst these hills that is overgrown with grass and weeds, its tombstones scattered about like so much debris."

Barnes Brook Cemetery

Hiram, Oxford, Maine

18xx - 19xx

OxHir27

Location: There are three granite markers in this burial ground located just north of Barnes Brook where the brook goes under the River Road. The graves are near the old foundation of the house once occupied by the Thomas Sargent family and earlier by, according to the 1880 map of the town of Hiram, W. Dowell. I believe the map is in error and that the name should be W. Lowell, for Willoughby Lowell. According to Monroe Boynton's diary, Willoughby Lowell was drowned in 1888 in the Saco River north of Barnes Brook. The Oxford Democrat had the following to say: "On the morning of July 6, 1888, Mr. Willoughby Lowell left his home in a state of despondency and derangement and went to Saco River, above Hiram Falls, and drowned himself. He was a peaceable and obliging neighbor and was much esteemed in his community. His age was about 57. He leaves an aged mother 93 years old, also a wife and 3 daughters." He was the son of David Lowell, who died about 1847, and Louisa Brown, who died March 24, 1889. It is possible that the graves are those of the Lowells. Willoughby Lowell's wife was Olive O. Sargent, who died July 8, 1894. I cannot find graves elsewhere in Hiram for four members of the Lowell family. HWC

Flye Cemetery

Hiram, Oxford, Maine

18xx - 19xx

OxHir29

Location: Page 141 of the Cemetery book:

The founders of the Fly or Flye family in Oxford County were James Fly and his wife Jerusha Freeman, who came from Gorham, Maine, via Baldwin, to Hiram in 1794. James Fly, a veteran of the French and Indian Wars and the Revolutionary War, possessed a powder horn on which he had carved the following inscription: "James Fly. His horn. We march today for Ticonderoga." The famous powder horn was reportedly handed down to his grandchildren and found its way from coast to coast, eventually being lost in Canada many years ago. James and Jerusha Fly settled on the Pequawket Trail below the Great Falls of the Saco River on the farm which subsequently became known as the John A. Warren farm. James Fly's grave, marked by field stones, is located in the valley opposite the former John A. Warren house.

Page 145 of the Cemetery book:

James Fly, who owned the famous powder horn on which he had carved the inscription, "James Fly. His horn. We march today for Ticonderoga." He came to Hiram from Gorham and was the founder of the Fly family in Oxford County. His grave, marked by field stones, is situated a few hundred feet to the south of Mr. Myron Perry's former home -- the well known John A. Warren House. (Information from Dr. William Teg's History of Hiram, 1964). This house is located on the River Road near the Cornish end. Jack Wadsworth says that the grave is located behind the barn across the road from the house. James Fly married Jerusha Freeman, They were the parents of Elder James Fly, founder of the Hiram Free Will Baptist Church. Other children were Hannah, Isaac, Mary, Lucy, Dorcas, Elizabeth, Susan, Susanna, John and Eleanor.

John Clemons Farm Cemetery

Hiram, Oxford, Maine

18xx - 19xx

OxHir30

Location: John Clemons, his wife Abigail Southwick, and six children came from Danvers, Mass, to Brownfield, Maine, in 1779 and then to Hiram in 1780 where they settled between the two ponds which bear the family name. The only close neighbors of John and Abigail Clemons were Tom Hegan (or Tomheagon), the Indian Hunter, and his squaw. After the death of Mr. Clemons in 1790 two of the children died suddenly. Mrs. Clemons left the bodies and went several miles through the woods to secure the assistance of Daniel Boston, who went back with her and dug a wide grave into which she laid her two daughters' bodies without religious ceremony. They were buried on the oak ridge west of the Clemons homestead, but there is now no indication of the graves to be found. The foregoing information comes from G. T. Ridlon's "Saco Valley Settlements and Families". Dr. William Teg, in his "History of Hiram" wrote that when the time came for John and Abigail Clemons to leave this world, their remains were interred on the summit of the sandy pine-clad ridge a few hundred feet to the west of the Indian Mound. The two daughters, Tamar and Delilah Clemons, as well as Tom Hegan and his squaw, were interred there. All of the graves are unmarked.

Sloper Cemetery

Hiram, Oxford, Maine

1884 - 1893

OxHir36

Location: These graves, marked only by fieldstones at head and foot, are located on the Russell Foss (former Jackson Place) property on a side hill near the road. In the 1940's two Hiram teen-age boys dug into the graves under the impression that they contained Indian remains and artifacts. A skull and jawbone were removed and taken to Walter Poor, who identified them as those of one of the Slopers. The bones were replaced.

Olson Cemetery

Lincoln Plantation, Oxford, Maine

1838 - 1995

OxLPlt03

Location: As you come into Wilson's Mills on Rt 16 you are coming around the sweeping left to the Magalloway River on the left before the bridge is the Olson Cemetery as it has been come to be known. It is an active Cemetery. It is about 100 Ft from the road and at the top of the river bank. It is an open field well kept by Lemuel Fickett's descendants the Olson's. The Olson house is on the other side of the road. It is just before you turn on the dirt rd to the Bennett Cemetery The original house burnt late 1800 with Lemuel's descendants just getting out with there lives.

Olson Cemetery, as you walk across the grass from Rt 16 you are looking at the back of the stones. We started with the stones nearest the road. Reading then from left (top of Magalloway River bank) to right.
